

BOERS' ADVANCE ON NATAL BEGUN

British To Make a Total Surrender.

SIR HENRY BINNS SO NOTIFIES THE AUTHORITIES.

Majuba Hill and Laing's Nek Country to Be Occupied Today—Charleston Has Already Been Abandoned and Glencoe and New Castle Come Next—The "New" Mahdi, Who Threatened the English is Defeated in a Fight at Berbera—Inhabitants of Ladysmith Are Panic Stricken.

London, Oct. 5.—[Special]—A Telegram's New Castle, Natal, dispatch, says: "The Boer advance on Natal has begun, and Majuba Hill and Laing's Nek country will be occupied today." The dispatch also adds that all of Natal as far south as Glencoe, will be abandoned by the British. Charlestown has already been abandoned, and the evacuation of New Castle comes next.

"New" Mahdi is Defeated

Aden, Oct. 5.—[Special]—The "new" Mahdi, who threatened the English at Berbera and Somali coast, was defeated in a fight at Berbera and lost twenty-seven men killed.

Ladysmith Population Panic Stricken

Ladysmith, Aden, Oct. 5.—[Special]—The inhabitants of Ladysmith are panic stricken at the prospect of an attack from the Boers coming from Orange Free State.

British to Surrender Natal

New Castle, Oct. 5.—[Special]—Sir Henry Binns, premier of Natal, telegraphed the city authorities not to resist, but to make a total surrender of the town to the Boers.

Lawlessness at Johannesburg

Johannesburg, Oct. 5.—[Special]—There is much lawlessness here as a result of the panic. The government has seized all dynamite and cyanide supplies, which have been placed under guard. The water supply is also under strict surveillance.

Bloemfontein, Oct. 5.—The government publishes a telegram from Boshof stating the British forces have crossed the border and that fighting has commenced.

Another telegram says the troops have crossed the border, but that no fighting has occurred.

London, Oct. 5.—The government discredits reports of fighting near Boshof.

A special dispatch from Newcastle, Natal, dated Wednesday, says: "The Boers have left the laager at Volksrust and are moving toward the frontier. The situation is most critical. The magistrates and municipal officers have assembled in the town hall to concoct measures for the defense of the town against an expected attack. All the women and children have been ordered to leave for the interior of Natal."

Other telegrams represent that a Boer attack upon Natal is expected at any moment, but assert that Commandant-General Joubert has threatened to shoot any man who moves without orders.

Volksrust, Oct. 5.—It is understood that the Pretoria government has served notice on the British diplomatic agent that unless her majesty's forces withdraw from the border before 5 o'clock tonight, that fact will be taken as equivalent to a declaration of war.

The Boers, who have gathered here by thousands, are not anxious, to tell the truth, to see the British troops withdrawn. Regarding as inevitable, they are full of enthusiasm for the fray and anxious for the campaign to begin. All the burghers are full of determination as soon as they get the word to seize Laing's Nek and beat their way through Natal to Durban on the coast.

Expect Fighting Today.

Gen. Joubert and his staff have arrived here, and it is expected that the old commander in chief will proclaim martial law today and give the word for fighting to begin tomorrow. Reconnoitering expeditions along the border report that not a British soldier is in sight.

The burghers occupy strong positions and preparations for the conflict are unceasing. The Boer mobilization along the frontier is exceedingly rapid and trainloads of troops are constantly arriving. This hurried movement is a severe tax on the railways. There are now six camps along the border within a radius of a few miles from Volksrust.

Refugees Curse the Capitalists.

The hurrying thousands of Johannesburgers making the best of their way to British territory offer an appalling sight, packed as they are in trucks, like sheep in carts. Women and children, undergoing terrible sufferings in their struggle to reach Natal, curse the capitalists, whom they regard as responsible for the crisis and their troubles.

The Boers sympathize with the refugees, but can do nothing to help them, so occupied are they with the serious business of the moment.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT SEEMS SLOW.

London Public Given the Impression That Peace May Continue.

London, Oct. 5.—Although Wednesday's news from South Africa includes the forcible seizure by the Boers of a week's shipment of gold, amounting to £500,000, on its way from the Rand to Cape Town, and the statements of refugees from Johannesburg that they have been subjected to insult and violent treatment at the hands of the Boers, the strong desire for a peaceful settlement continues increasingly to find expression in this country.

The dilatoriness of the government in summoning the cabinet meeting is regarded as hopeful. It certainly will not be held this week, although parliament is likely to assemble Oct. 17.

The parliamentary session will be devoted exclusively to discussing the Transvaal crisis and passing a vote of credit of £10,000,000, which is considered sufficient to last until February, when parliament will reconvene.

It is stated that the war office has decided that the army corps for service in South Africa shall be much larger than originally estimated, and that it now consists of over 40,000 men.

GOVERNOR SCOFIELD HAS A SUFFICIENCY

NEITHER SEEKS OR WOULD ACCEPT A THIRD TERM.

Under No Circumstances Will He Be a Candidate—Makes an Explicit and Positive Statement That Sets at Rest All Reports as to the Chief Executive's Intention.

"I am not a candidate for governor and will not be under any circumstances," said Gov. Scofield yesterday to a representative of the Milwaukee Sentinel.

This is certainly definite and final. It will put an end to the efforts of the governor's friends in his behalf and it will doubtless be gratifying news to the six or eight republicans who aspire to be candidates for governor. Several weeks ago Gov. Scofield, in an interview in the Sentinel, said he was not a candidate, but this was not accepted by other candidates or by some of his friends as conclusive. Yesterday, he made the announcement in language which admits of no doubt, and he says that his prior statement should have been so construed, as he intended it should be. But many of his friends did not wish to take it that way. The governor's successful efforts to straighten out state finances, his refusal to authorize expenditures when the money to meet them was not in treasury, and his stopping the long prevailing custom of borrowing from banks and trust funds and the work now in progress of revolutionizing old methods of state bookkeeping, designed often to conceal rather than make clear state disbursements, had won such general commendation as to give rise to much talk of a third term and much anxiety to other candidates.

Gov. Scofield came to Milwaukee yesterday from Madison and will conclude his tour of the county fairs this week.

STOOD 'NEATH CUPID'S ARCH.

Turley-Welch.

Bernard Turley of Chicago, and Miss Nellie Welch of this city, were quietly married in Chicago, at St. Michael's church, Wednesday. They were accompanied by Miss Mae Murphy of Texas, as bridesmaid, and John Welch, brother of the bride, as best man. After the ceremony, a luncheon was served at the home of the sister of the bride, Mrs. Harry Lewis, 33 Artesian avenue.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Welch of West Pleasant street. She is a young lady well and favorably known for her many admirable qualities, and has for a long time been employed in the dry goods store of T. P. Burns.

After an extended visit in Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Turley will be at home to their friends at 32 North California avenue. A large circle of friends will join in wishing the couple great joy in their new life.

Illinois Bankers in Convention.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Men of finance from nearly every town and city in Illinois met this morning in the Great Northern theater at the ninth annual convention of the Illinois State Bankers' association. The convention will last two days.

Fifteen Sailors Are Rescued.

St. John's, N. F., Oct. 5.—The fifteen men belonging to the Warren line steamer Bay State, which was wrecked near Cape Race, were rescued by the tug Greyhound Wednesday.

BATTLE SHIPS WILL PROCEED TO MANILA

ACT UPON THE SUGGESTIONS OF ADMIRAL DEWEY.

Order Telegraphed This Morning to the Cruiser Nashville at San Domingo to Proceed to the Philippines With All Due Dispatch—Others Are to Follow.

Washington, Oct. 5.—[Special]—Orders were telegraphed this morning to the Cruiser Nashville at San Domingo to proceed to Manila with all due dispatch.

At the same time orders were sent to the cruisers Brooklyn and New Orleans to prepare to leave as soon as possible for the Philippines.

The last two mentioned vessels will get away from Hampton roads by next week.

Orders were also sent to the cruiser Badger at San Francisco to prepare to cross the Pacific as soon as practicable. The gunboats Bancroft, Machias, Marietta and Annapolis will also be ordered to start for Manila in the course of a week or two.

These orders by Secretary Long are the result of the advice of Admiral Dewey.

Manila, Oct. 5.—Several hundred insurgents have reoccupied Porac, which was captured by Gen. MacArthur on Sept. 28 and evacuated by the Americans the following day. The insurgent forces are also reported moving toward Mexico, southeast of Angeles. The object of the double movement is, apparently, to get behind the American garrison on both sides of the Manila-Dagupan railway.

Reconnoissances from Mexico by the Fourth cavalry toward Santa Ana, northeast of Mexico, and toward Arayat, due north of Santa Ana, developed the fact that the insurgents are in position at both points. An American private was killed in the skirmish at Santa Ana. The Arayat party learned that Scott and Edwards of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, who are missing, are prisoners at Magalang.

The insurgents made two attacks on Calamba, in which the commanding officer reports sixty Filipinos were killed and many wounded. Two companies of the Twenty-first regiment repelled each attack, losing two men killed and seven wounded.

Bolomen surprised an American outpost near Guagua, killing two privates. The other two escaped.

While four sailors of the United States cruiser Baltimore were entering the Bacoor river in a boat, after the fight, they received a volley, wounding three. It is understood that the volley came from United States soldiers, who, having been ordered to prevent the passing of boats, fired by mistake upon the Baltimore's men.

Rear-Admiral Watson announces the recovery of the United States gunboat Urdaneta, which was captured and beached by the insurgents near Orani, on the Orani river, where she had been blockading. The expedition was entirely successful, the Americans suffering no casualties.

Warships Hurried to Manila.

Washington, Oct. 5.—The president on Wednesday directed the immediate dispatch to the Philippines of a number of vessels of the navy, including the cruiser Brooklyn and the gunboats Marietta and Machias. The action is the result of Admiral Dewey's interview, in which he went over the Philippine situation with the president.

The orders given are in line with the expressed determination of the president to furnish the army and navy every resource for stamping out the Philippine insurrection at the earliest possible time.

Fire at Paranaque.

Manila, Oct. 5.—The town of Paranaque was attacked by a force of insurgents at midnight last night and set on fire.

Two companies of the Fourteenth infantry, under command of Major Daggett, repulsed the enemy. The Americans suffered no casualties.

The fire was not extinguished until several buildings had been destroyed. At the time this dispatch is sent everything is quiet.

News from Filipino Officials.

Manila, Oct. 5.—The establishment of local municipal government by the American authorities is having at least one good effect. The American forces are receiving from the new Filipino officials advance information of all the insurgent movements south of Manila and are thus able to anticipate them.

To Express Sympathy for Boers.

New York, Oct. 5.—A mass-meeting to express sympathy with the Boers in their struggle against Great Britain will be held in Cooper Union on Oct. 9 at 8 o'clock. W. Bourke Cockran will deliver an address. Tunis G. Bergen also will speak. The meeting will be presided over by Augustus Van Wyck, but the movement is not under the auspices of the Holland society.

Fifteen Sailors Are Rescued.

St. John's, N. F., Oct. 5.—The fifteen men belonging to the Warren line steamer Bay State, which was wrecked near Cape Race, were rescued by the tug Greyhound Wednesday.

STOUGHTON TO HAVE NEW NATIONAL BANK

ORGANIZED WITH A CAPITAL OF FIFTY THOUSAND.

Large Share of Stock Held by Oshkosh Parties—A Tragedy Near Pittsville Which is Something of a Mystery—Educated Indian is Shot by a Girl—State News.

Stoughton, Wis., Oct. 5.—An action of no little importance to Stoughton, was the organization yesterday afternoon, of a new bank, to be known as the First National of Stoughton. The capital of the new institution is $50,000, subscribed for the most part by Oshkosh parties, though several local capitalists are likewise interested.

The officers of the new bank are: L. D. Moses, president; M. A. Johnson, vice-president, and J. F. Melas, cashier. It is the intention of the promoters to open for business at the earliest opportunity, and preparations for convenient quarters are already in progress. The bank will occupy the building formerly used by the old Dane County bank, and it is expected that all will be in readiness to take possession within a fortnight.

Among the principal stockholders of the institution are: Leader Choate, J. R. Morgan, J. M. Bray, B. T. Morgan and T. B. Morgan, all of Oshkosh. The heaviest local stockholder is M. A. Johnson, the vice president, who is president of the Stoughton Wagon works, though Cashier Melas also holds considerable stock.

Indian Shot By a Girl

Pittsville, Wis., Oct. 5.—Meager information has reached here that George Jackson, a well-educated Indian who recently came from Kansas in the interests of the Pattawatomie's in this section, of which he is a member—was shot and instantly killed by the eighteen year old daughter of Ne-Kon, their medicine man. The Indians are very reticent in regard to the circumstance surrounding the shooting. The girl, it is said, simply acknowledged that she shot Jackson. He has been trying for some time to get a paying station for his tribe located at Pittsville, and has twice been sent to Washington in their behalf. The general opinion seems to be that trouble over the delay regarding this in some way led to the tragedy. There was no one at the camp at the time except Jackson, the girl and an old squaw, deaf and nearly blind. The other Indians were at work in a cranberry marsh about eighteen miles away.

The murdered Indian was a widower with one child 10 years old, whom Ne-Kon's daughter cared for. The girl says the Indian was trying to get in the window of the shanty where she was. After ordering him away and when he did not go, she shot and killed him. The next morning she informed the Indians, and the body was found lying on the ground near the shanty. The young woman has not been arrested.

Board of Equalization Met.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 5.—The state board of equalization met yesterday afternoon to complete the work of fixing the assessments for the different counties. Another matter which came up is the failure of some of the freight line equipment companies to report the value of their property for taxation, as required by law. The most notable instance is that of the Armour Packing company of Chicago, which has not only neglected but refused to file such report. Some of the small packers have also declined to make reports, generally on the same ground, though some of them claim they do no business in Wisconsin.

Jostad's Assault Band Over.

West Salem, Wis., Oct. 5.—Yesterday brought out interesting developments in the Sacia Jostad assault case. Percy Sacia, a candidate for teacher's certificate, which he failed to procure, made an assault on Jostad. Sacia was arranged before Judge Brindley on a charge of assault with intent to kill and had his examination continued until October 18, giving $500 bonds. Sacia says he had provoked for his assault. Jostad had written several letters to Sacia to which he took objection.

Identifies Alleged Crook.

Portage, Wis., Oct. 5.—Landlord Wells of the Ender house has returned from Chicago, where he went to identify J. E. Meyers, arrested on a charge of passing a $20 worthless draft on Mr. Wells. Mayhew claims he is not the man wanted, but Wells says he is certain of his identity.

Uncle Sam Wants Fighters

Recruiting Office Established Today at Railroad House.

Lieut. H. E. Smith of the United States army, has established a recruiting office at the Railroad Hotel on North Academy street, where he will be stationed for the next ten days. He is after recruits for the regular and volunteer service, also colored troops for the volunteers. The term of service is three years for regulars and until June 30, 1901 for volunteers.

Population of Finland.

The total population of Finland by the last official census—that of 1896—was 2,520,000, of whom 2,170,000 were native Finns, 340,000 were Swedes resident in Finland, 7,000 were Russians (chiefly of the official class or members of Russian garrisons) and 1,200 were Laplanders.

BAD RUNAWAY THIS MORNING

Team of Horses Creates Excitement on Milwaukee Street.

There was a wicked runaway on East Milwaukee street about 7 o'clock this morning, when a team of horses attached to a heavy wagon loaded with wind-mill supplies, started from Main street and ran up the hill. When the team reached Johnson's grocery they took to the sidewalk, overturning the wagon and throwing the two men who were in it, to the pavement, but fortunately not seriously injuring them. The reach of the wagon broke, and the horses kept on with the front wheels, scattering over the street the vegetables and various other articles displayed in front of the grocery. After doing considerable damage, the team left the sidewalk and continued up the hill, colliding with a delivery wagon at Wisconsin street, where they were caught. Those who witnessed the runaway are still wondering how it happened that nobody was hurt by it, as there were a number of people on the street at the time.

Finns Make Bread of Bark.

Stockholm, Oct. 5.—The failure of the crops in Finland has reduced the peasantry to the extremity of eating bread made from ground bark mixed with frost-bitten potatoes. There is little flour to be had in the districts around Alavo, where usually the harvest is abundant.

EAGERLY LOOKING FOR STOLEN NOTES

EEGERTON MAN SEARCHING HICKORY STREET.

Endeavoring to Find Papers Worth $600, Which, Together With a Considerable Amount of Money Were Taken From the Saloon of Frank Hartzheim at Tobacco Town.

An Edgerton man has been anxiously searching a portion of Hickory street lately in an endeavor to find two notes amounting to $600, which were stolen, with a considerable amount of money from the saloon of Frank Hartzheim in Edgerton, a short time ago. The boxes taken from the safe were brought to this city, and the contents divided, up on Hickory street as has been already stated in these columns. The anxious man is named Larson, and he was so skeptical of the stability of banks, that he deposited his notes in Hartzheim's strong box for safe keeping. How safe they were has been demonstrated by the subsequent events, and he is now a much wiser man.

The notes were issued to Larson by Pomeroy and Pelton of the tobacco town, and one was for $500 and the other for $100. Some of the stolen property was found in this city at two different times and consisted of notes, insurance policies and other papers which were of no value to the thieves, but for some reason the two notes above referred to did not turn up and it is believed that the burglars, aware of the fact that Pomeroy & Pelton were well known, took a long chance and sold the paper to some farmer. Larson now asks the Edgerton tobacco firm to issue a duplicate set of notes, which with considerable propriety they refuse to do until they know where the original ones are.

PLEASANT OUTING PLANNED

Juniors of the Y. M. C. A. Will Enjoy Nutting Expedition.

Physical Director J. M. Ward of the Y. M. C. A., has arranged a pleasant outing for his juniors. Next Saturday he will take the boys out in the country on a nutting expedition, and the youngsters are highly elated at the prospect. They will go out for all day, and will no doubt come back well laden with the toothsome product of the hickory tree. The party will be composed of Harold Campbell, Douglas McKey, Chaeter Morris, C. Van Beyman, Nate Kelly, Earl Kelly and Howard Back. This is what might be termed a "personally conducted tour," as Mr. Ward will have efficient charge of the party.

A Shirt Waist Coupler.

The person who invents a successful coupler for the shirt waist will confer a boon upon womankind that will be widely appreciated. The woman in a shirt waist always anticipates a difference between her waist and skirt; a gap of divergence, a severance of the connections. The ordinary observer will notice, especially at the theater or church, the concerted action in which every woman's hand goes to her belt in the rear when she rises to her feet for any purpose. It is an instinctive movement and not at all ungraceful, and to the onlooker an interesting performance.

Work of a Legal Aid Association.

Since the foundation of the Legal Aid association in New York 90,000 people, victimized by their fellows, have sought and found justice through its efforts. The society has collected and paid over to its clients a sum largely in excess of $700,000. The indirect benefits have also been felt by a far larger number of people.

TODAY'S RACE IS ANOTHER FAILURE

Failed to Finish Within Time Limit.

START AT EVEVEN FOUR WITH SHAMROCK IN LEAD.

Twenty Minutes After the Signal, the Columbia Passed the British Boat—At 12:35 She Was Reported a Half Mile Ahead—At 2:05 the Fog Lifted and the Yankee Racer Was a Mile and a Half in the Lead.

New York, Oct. 5, 4:15 p. m.—[Special]—Today's yacht race was declared "no contest," neither boat having finished within the stated time limit.

New York, Oct. 5.—[Special]—Again the attention of the inhabitants of every nation are centered on the great international yacht race for the American cup, between the Columbia and the Shamrock, the second attempt at the first of the series of races being made at 11 o'clock this morning.

Shortly after 9 o'clock a. m. both yachts started for the starting point. The wind at this time was blowing at the rate of seven knots and the haze was exceedingly thick.

At 11:34 the start was made, with the Shamrock in the lead by about two boat lengths.

The Columbia made several fruitless attempts to blanket the Britisher's wind. Both boats were headed for the Long Island shore. The wind seemed very light.

Twenty-two minutes after the start the Columbia took the lead. The haze was so thick that the yachts could hardly be seen with the strongest glass.

Shortly before noon both yachts disappeared in the haze.

The Columbia was still leading.

At 12:35 the yachts were still invisible.

A tug arrived from the scene of the race at that time and reported the Columbia a half mile ahead.

Another boat just in from the scene of the race, said the Columbia was in the lead by a half mile at 12:30.

At 2:05 the fog lifted for a few minutes. The boats were twelve miles out, and the Columbia appears to be a mile and a half in the lead.

At 2:08 the wind is blowing at the rate of about seven miles an hour. The boats apparently had not made the outer mark.

A steam yacht came in from the scene of the race at 2:30 and reported the race likely to be another fluke, because of the light wind.

Gathering At Scene of Race.

Yachtsmen and spectators were early astir and were making for the river fronts, where they boarded crafts of all sorts and started for the scene of the international yacht race.

Capt. Evans with his fleet of torpedo boats and revenue cutters went down to the bay early.

A light stiff wind was blowing at sunrise and a haze was upon the water. Down toward Sandy Hook the sea was as smooth as glass and yacht experts predicted that there would not be enough breeze to carry the yachts over the course in the prescribed time.

There had been some uncertainty as to the course to be sailed. Yesterday afternoon C. S. Nicholson Kane announced that the race was to be as on Tuesday—fifteen miles to windward or leeward and a beat back. The agreement was that where it is impossible to finish a contest within the time limit the same class of race must be continued until a decision is reached.

New York, Oct. 5.—On the eve of the second contest for the international yachting trophy, neither the Shamrock nor the Columbia has the preference with the public. Such bets as are being made are at even money. In short, it is anybody's race. The partisans of the Columbia have been upset by the showing the Shamrock made Tuesday in light airs. They recognize that the races which follow are to be close, and that if the cup is held it will not be by the large margins enjoyed by Yankee yachts heretofore.

Capt. Ben Parker, skipper on the board the Shamrock. It was his master hand that held the tiller and guided the Irish challenger in its first brush with the Herreshoffs' latest racing wonder. Capt. Parker is incognito and appears without the formal consent of Emperor William. For that reason, he sails aboard the challenger as "Capt. Jones." Yet he is no other than Ben Parker.

STIRRING RIDE ON A MIDNIGHT FLYER

INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF NORTHWESTERN FAST MAIL

From Janesville to Evansville, Twenty-two Miles, in a Like Number of Minutes—Run Down Grade at the Terrific Rate of Eighty-One Miles an Hour.

A Milwaukee Sentinel reporter gives the following account of a ride he (?) enjoyed from Chicago to Duluth, Minnesota, on the fast mail on the Chicago & Northwestern road.

In the cab of the midnight flyer hauling Uncle Sam's mail.

From Chicago to Elroy, Wis., 218 miles, in 278 minutes running time, including eight stops for railroad crossings and orders.

From Woodstock to Harvard, twelve miles, in ten minutes.

From Janesville to Madison, forty-five miles, in fifty minutes.

From Janesville to Evansville, twenty-two miles, in twenty-two minutes, and from Evansville to Madison, twenty-three miles, in twenty-eight minutes, including two stops for railroad crossings.

This was the banner run of this long midnight ride on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad. Down Danc hill for a short sprint, the mail negotiated speed approximately eighty-one miles an hour. With the correspondent still clinging to his seat in the cab and praying silently that he may land "softly" in the next world, the fireman bawled: "Aw, this ain't nothin'; y' ought to be here when he lets her out if we're late." Below Janesville some dark objects lay across the track. The whistle shrieked a hoarse warning, but too late. On her pilot the flyer carried a dead horse into Janesville.

Out of Chicago three minutes late—into Elroy on the tick of the watch at the scheduled time. A train running the distance without stops or slow downs in the same time as the midnight mail, would have to maintain a speed of forty-seven and seven-tenths miles per hour every minute that she was on the road. Subtract from this time the time lost in making eight scheduled stops and seven stops for railroad crossings, and you get an idea of the speed this mail train must make if it fulfills the government contracts. One mile from the station the engineer must begin to slow down, unless he wishes to set the air brakes and flatten the wheels of his locomotive. Then, he is fined and laid off. Between Woodstock and Harvard when the engine was working smoothly and between Janesville and the next station a mile a minute was slow. Down Oregon hill and over the Brooklyn flats the speed was terrific.

All Ready for the Race.

A letter from the superintendent acted as a passport to Chief Train Despatcher O'Brien, who put his name to a slip of tissue paper and said, "Show it to the boys. They'll give you anything you want." This bit of paper admitted to the roundhouse, where they were grooming the flyer, to the yard offices and finally into the cab of No. 593. The big engine that draws the mail to Baraboo. It has eighty inch drive wheels and a boiler that is shaped like a Krag-Jorgensen cartridge. Long before 10 o'clock she was already for the race. At 9 o'clock she hitched up to a mail car and drew down to the bridge to get the northern mail off the Pennsylvania train that will soon come rushing in from the East. At five minutes to the starting time she is backed down to the depot and there receives the mail from the Lake Shore line that has been rushed across the city in big vans. Ten o'clock comes and the Omaha mail slips from her place on the other side of the platform and sneaks away over the prairie. The order comes in a second or two and the Northern mail slides from her place for her flight through Wisconsin. Dan Mahoney was at the throttle and J. Ryerson passed coal, the two working together up to Baraboo, 176 miles.

Leaving the City Behind.

Out from the glare of the electric light in the trainshed, without jar or noise, and away down the yards we crawled before we got in motion. Then the houses seemed to go drifting past in an endless panorama. Chugging over countless switches and rumbling over street bridges the train swept out from under the smoke and haze of the city, into the prairie country, which showed indistinct in the moonlight. The wind seemed to go rushing by the cab and wanted to tear your hair off if you were unlucky enough to stick your head out of the window.

"But this ain't fast," was all the consolation you would get if you suggested to the fireman that things were getting speedy on this train. Three stops for crossings make slow going for the first seventeen miles and then the train is sent forward for a little warmer work. The telegraph poles are passed at a rate that tells of fifty miles per hour. The engine throbs as though alive.

In spite of the apparent roar, inside the cab it is as still and dark as a cave. Now the fireman jerks open the door to the firebox and shoots in twenty pounds of coal every shovelful. Across the cab sits the engineer, his eye glued on the track ahead. The fireman pinched my arm: "See the light? Red. Danger." A red glow showed in the block signal just ahead and the flyer began to slow down. Much to the engineer's disgust a stop was made at Cary to get an order which read something like this:

Special freight ahead. Will side-track, with No. X in, at Crystal Lake.

Like a Mad Rush.

It was a mile and a half out of Cary before the mail got down to work again and then very carefully until green lights replaced the red in the signal towers. Down the tracks six red lights showed, three on each side and then above winked a blue beacon. The blue meant all was clear and we dashed down into Crystal Lake and between the two long freight trains at a mad rush. Then came a long climb up Crystal Lake hill, the first serious grade thus far out of Chicago. Outside the air was frosty, inside the cab the fireman was "one drip" of sweat? It needed no dictionary to tell that the man was "working." On the down grade we pass a freight train as though it was standing still, although it was going in the opposite direction at the rate of thirty miles per hour. The impression was that the mail slowed down and the freight stopped or nearly stopped. The roar was deafening. Below here we chased a polecat off the track and it took the fireman ten seconds to confidentially explain that, "We see 'em every night most."

A green light and a sign post tell the engineer that Woodstock is a mile ahead and then the air hisses as he applies the brake. It hisses and is shut off and again intermittently until the train stopped at the station. Two minutes were consumed in unloading the mail and giving the crank and wheels of the engine a dose of oil. Then away she went on her ten mile race to Harvard. She fairly flew. The fence posts went by, blended into each other in a long dark phantom. The track was practically straight and the smoothest place on the road. The engine ceased to jolt a particle and the throb of the monster grew so fast that its pulse could not be counted. The clicking of the rails blended into a sharp hum. Faster, much faster than a mile a minute for we were a little late. "How do you like it?" called the engineer.

"Bully," for next to ice boating in a stiff northwest, driving in an engine cab is the finest thing that ever happened. Water and a transfer of mail at Harvard Junction; this took four minutes, and we were again on the road. The gait was much less rapid, for we were up against Clinton hill. Over the grade we swept at last and down into the Junction, but only for a stop of one minute by actual count. Past this point the trouble began. The water that had been taken at Harvard was dirty, showing a precipitate in the glass, and the engine kept "foaming," thus bothering the driver considerably. Up another grade and the steam gauge showed a drop of five pounds. This the fireman took as an insult offered by the engine and took the thing so much to heart that he mentioned some of the things above. Apparently to the novice there was no decrease in speed, but the engine driver felt it.

Never Knew What Struck Him.

The mail was now in Wisconsin. "The next station is Janesville," explained the fireman. A slight curve in the road disclosed some dark heaps on the track. The engineer jerked the whistle cord, a movement like shadows was made up the track and then came a slight jar. From the cab window the foot of an animal could be seen sticking over the pilot. This poor fellow never knew what struck him. At Janesville a horse was found, wrapped around the head of the pilot.

In five minutes we were off up the Evansville cut-off for our fastest long drives. Houses and trees went whirling by as in a dream. At the one curve in this stretch of road it felt as though the big engine wanted to leave the rails and run amuck in the pasture below. Pound, pound went the big drive-wheels and the machine leaned like a bicycle on a curve and then righted nicely in the straightaway that followed. Twenty-two minutes from the time she started till the time she stopped at Evansville she had covered twenty-two miles of ground.

The fireman had his play here, for he filled the boiler and we were off again in exactly two minutes. When the chance came of making eighty-five miles an hour by dropping from Rock Cut into Madison, that chance has to be thrown aside, for rival railroads cross in the middle of Lake Monona at the foot of the hill. At the top of the notch steam was shut off and the air applied. A few accidents have happened at this crossing in the middle of the lake.

The Fastest Time on the Run.

Another stop was made before Madison depot was reached, where a bulk of mail is transferred and another car added to the already heavy train. Engine Driver Mahoney had the machine all oiled and ready to start before the local men had the mail transferred; they moved like ice-wagons. Eleven minutes late out of Madison and the climb to Baraboo began in an effort to make up this time. Up through the Monona yards for three miles the going was comparatively slow and then, on an up-grade to Mendota, the station for the insane hospital loomed into view. A pretty chase across a marsh and a rush through the little town of Waunakee was the order "of going." Then came Danc hill. No. 593 was sent against this hard, but it was stiff work, this hill bucking with a heavy train behind. Panting when it reached the crest of the hill, it seemed to rest a second before plunging down to the north grade; this was the fastest sprint on the run. It was exhilarating, but mixed with a little creepings at the thought of where you would go if you "landed."

A Dizzy Gait to Baraboo.

The train was now among the Wisconsin river bluffs and the work cut out for her was the stiffest of the run. A red danger light swung out in the tower at the head of a curve and the train came to dead standstill. "Bridge," said the fireman, as the train moved forward slowly. Rounding a bend, we swung out on a trestle bridge 250 feet above the Wisconsin river. Down stream the islands showed as dark blotches against a blue background that silvered up in the moonlight. Would the train have jumped the track and plunged into the river if the engineer had not obeyed the red signal in the tower?

Clear of the bridge, Dan Mahoney made an effort to recover some of the time lost in the delays down the line and covered the next four or five miles at a dizzy gait. The train pushed close to a high rock wall, around the "noose," as this bend is called, and then between a gap and out on the edge of Devil's lake, lying black and gloomy under high bluffs. Some more fast running and then down into Baraboo. "Look at the coal tank. Gad, but I'm tired," gasped the fireman. The tank at Chicago was piled high with coal—here it was almost empty. The man had handled over eight tons of coal and he had reason to be tired. "Baraboo"—a gain of three minutes of the lost time and the run of the big engine, No. 593, driven by Dan Mahoney, one of the best engineers on the road—this run was ended.

A Quick Change of Engines.

Two mechanics were waiting at the station for the train to put in an appearance. In a jiffy the engine was cut off, and went steaming down the yards, a switch was thrown and the fresh engine, No. 600, was coupled to the train. O. E. Wright worked the throttle and Edward Williamson passed the coal. The water in the glass was as clear as crystal, and she was steaming beautifully. Once clear of the yard the throttle was thrown open, and we went tearing off through the Baraboo bluffs. Parts of the track were new, and the engine bucked like a fresh bronco on the curves or sea-sawed with a choppy motion like a yacht in a southeast wind. No. 600 is a long, low engine with a kind of a sneaky look—as though she was built for blockade running. Alongside of big No. 593 she looked a dwarf, but the big fellow could never have held the rails on the curves that No. 600 faced, without a bit of pounding. With throttle wide open all the way, she dashed this train without a halt for thirty-seven miles in fifty-three minutes in this hilly country. That was a run for the money. Near Alemben the southbound mail, several minutes late, rushed by with a roar. Past this station, the headlight showed up a solid rock-wall, and it looked as though we were about to stop "sudden." A turn to the left—the engine careened and tumbled as if soon to fling into the quarries where all the construction stone comes from. A swing to the right and we were in Alemben's gap, one of the most skillful bits of railroad construction in Wisconsin. Around the "horse shoe," a turn so sharp that the second coach can be seen from the cab window, close on each side rose walls of granite and sandstone. Save the spot illuminated by the head-light the gap was as dark as a cave, in spite of the full moon.

On Time at Elroy.

Out from the gap and along a piece of new road-bed we rush. Here the south-bound limited passes in an effort to reach Chicago by 9 in the morning; a distance the mail has made in a fraction over four hours. The town with the funny name, Wonegan, is passed, and the fireman asks for the time. "We're going to make it easy," he says, and in a few minutes the lights of Elroy are seen ahead. Five minutes past 3 by the tick of the watch the little engine is standing in front of the station on time. The rough road-bed is passed and a big engine couples to the mail. No. 600 hooks on to the relay for Winona, and the mail screeches away on its flight toward the north. Chicago and Milwaukee papers are in Superior in time to be read at breakfast.

TO HEAR MANY CASES IN GREEN COUNTY

JUDGE DUNWIDDIE WILL BE KEPT BUSY.

Term Opens at Monroe on Next Tuesday, October 10, and the Calendar Bids Fair to Be a Long One—Local Attorneys Appear in Many Suits.

The fall term of the Green county circuit court meets in Monroe next Tuesday, Oct. 10, with Judge B. F. Dunwiddie presiding. Several cases will be continued over the term and others settled and struck from the calendar as is always the case, but the calendar is quite a lengthy one, including some important criminal cases that are almost certain to be tried, so that this fall's term of court is likely to be more than of usual length. It will be the first term held by Judge Dunwiddie which will add considerable interest to the court, as all will be interested in his manner and way of handling matters.

The first case on the civil calendar to be tried by jury is a damage suit, Elizabeth Chase vs. Henry Stair and the city of Brodhead, Reger & Norcross are attorneys for plaintiff and Fethers, Jeffries & Fife for defendants. Other cases in which Janesville lawyers are interested, are as follows:

The Monroe Water Works vs. City of Monroe, is an action to recover hydrant rental, and P. J. Clawson and Jackson & Jackson are attorneys for the water works people, and Burr Jones and C. W. Wright for the city.

Jasper Knapp also sues on a note, the defendant being Dora Altzinger et al., with P. J. Clawson attorney for plaintiff and Dunwiddie & Wheeler for defendant, Eli Knapp and Cliff Knapp.

Ellen Martin vs. J. W. O'Donnell and James Broderick is a suit on a note and the defendants set up the claim of the statute of limitation. A. N. Randall is the prosecuting and Mahoney & Ryan defending.

The issues to be tried by jury number twelve and for the issue of fact for the court there is five. The first is that of Thomas H. Weirich vs. The Monroe Planing Mill Co., with C. Wright, and Fethers, Jeffries & Mount for the plaintiff, and A. S. Douglas and J. L. Sheron for the defendant.

FAVOR SHOWN GREAT BRITAIN.

Opinion in Paris That Venezuela Got Less Than She Deserved.

Paris, Oct. 5.—The Venezuela award still occupies considerable attention. The opinion is generally expressed that Venezuela got less than she deserved.

Gen. Harrison has again repeated his declaration that Great Britain had no case, and that what it did have was badly presented.

Senor Rojas, the Venezuelan agent here, in the course of an interview, said: "The award was not what I hoped, but we must make the best of it. What can you expect in a contest between an ant and an elephant? One thing will result from it: America will accept no more arbitration with Europe. You will see America lay down a fresh international code, which she will apply to the world whether the latter likes it or not. The South American states, including Brazil, will rally around the United States for the purpose of effecting an economic union."

Still Hope to Avert Conflict.
Cape Town, Oct. 5.—Feeling in Cape Town is slightly easier, chiefly because of the conference between the Hon. J. H. Hofmeyr, the Afrikaner leader, and High Commissioner Sir Alfred Milner. This being the first occasion in many months when these two men have come together, the fact is thought to betoken a possibility, even now, that war may be averted, especially in view of the assurances Mr. Hofmeyr has given that he can secure Kruger's assent to the five-year franchise in return for concessions to which Great Britain has hitherto agreed.

Carter Case in Civil Court.
New York, Oct. 5.—Judge Lacombe of the United States Circuit court, has taken, under advisement the petition for the release of Capt. Oberlin M. Carter, under habeas corpus proceedings. Pending the decision Capt. Carter will remain in prison at Castle William. There may be an appeal from Judge Lacombe's decision, which ever side he may take. The decision will probably be given within a few days.

Miners Attack Nonunion Man.
Decatur, Ill., Oct. 5.—Six nonunion coal miners, who were on their way to work Wednesday, were attacked by a crowd of striking coal miners and badly beaten. Clubs were used and the timely intervention of the police, probably saved their lives. The strikers dispersed rapidly and no arrests were made. A coal famine prevails, owing to the action of the state miners' union in shutting off the importation of outside coal.

$25.45 Per Capita.
Washington, Oct. 5.—The treasury statement issued Wednesday, based on an estimated population of 76,561,000, places the per capita circulation of the United States on Oct. 1 at $25.45.

The total circulation of all kinds of United States money on Oct. 1 was $1,948,703,186, an increase since Sept. 1 of $6,572,045, and since Oct. 1, 1898, of $132,106,794.

Russia Plans Huge Alliance.
Madrid, Oct. 5.—The Russian ambassador to Spain had a long conference with Prime Minister Silveira Wednesday. It is rumored that efforts are being made to induce Spain, on account of its geographical position, to enter into a continental European alliance, against Great Britain in the first instance and the United States if necessary.

Admiral Dewey Invited.
Washington, Oct. 5.—The Chicago committee called upon Admiral Dewey Wednesday and presented an invitation to the corner-stone ceremony next Monday. Admiral Dewey thanked the committee and said he desired to visit Chicago some time this fall, but he could not go next week to be present at the corner-stone ceremony.

Court Recognizes Boycott.
Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 6.—The judges of the Jackson county court have recognized the boycott inaugurated by the business men of Kansas City against the Burlington road, instructing the sheriff that so long as the boycott is in force he must not travel over that road in taking insane people to the state asylum at St. Joseph.

Four Thousand Above Zero.
Boston Globe: If the claims that are made for his invention are well founded, an English chemist has discovered a means of producing a degree of heat vastly more intense than ever produced through human agency before. While details of the invention are being kept secret it has transpired that the process consists in the use of kerosene oil and steam in such a way as to produce a temperature of about 4,000 degrees at a very slight expense. So intense is this heat that it melts platinum and carbon with ease, and even magnesia, considered one of the hardest substances to fuse, is melted almost as quickly. Ordinary iron and steel burn like paper to the fierce blast, and samples of fire brick that were believed to be absolutely incombustible have been melted to lumps of earthenware by its means.

A New Needle.
A clever invention for the embroiderer is the needle made with four eyes, so that when an imperceptible blending of shades and colors is required four different threads can be used simultaneously. The device has been found extremely useful for the purpose above mentioned, and it is possible that, when a piece of work has to be finished rapidly, it may also be found of value as a saving of time in covering the ground quickly.

A LONG LAUGH SET IN SMILES

"A Ragtime Reception" at Myers Grand Opera House Tonight

A long laugh set in smiles will be the result of a visit to Myers Grand opera house. "A Ragtime Reception" will be opened by clever comedians, dashing subrettes, grand prima donnas and a large chorus of pretty girls who can sing and dance and make the hours merry. Outside of Charles Hoyt's famous work we have had nothing new in farce comedy for several years until "A Ragtime Reception," which was presented last season for a spring tour through the east, where it met with instantaneous success and was accepted by the critics in the east as the one positive novelty in farce comedy presented during the last decade. George Totten Smith who has become famous for his bright and witty vaudeville sketches, is the author, Messrs.

Graham & Bromilow, the managers, have placed it before the public with one of the strongest companies ever seen in farce comedy, having selected every member for their special line of work which embraces artists from grand and comic opera, vaudeville and dramatic, who appear incidental to the play in unique and novel specialties which occur in natural manner. The principal members include Miss Beatrice Goldie, Mr. Gus Pixley, Gladys Van, May McCabe, Phil Michaels, Charles Roach, J. C. Odell, La Belle Nadine, The DeVauls and Harry J. Pearson. The comedy is written up-to-date with new music, catchy songs, witty sayings, presented with all new scenery, all of which is carried by the company.

Another Good Attraction
In speaking of the early life of Paul F. Nicholson, Jr., who assumes the principal character in Hoyt's "A Stranger in New York," which comes to the Myers Grand opera house next Saturday in afternoon and evening performance, a very funny story is told of him when he was employed in a grocery store in Jersey City, it is as follows: Have you got any watermelons on ice, inquired the man with a basket on his arm. "No, Sir," replied Mr. Nicholson. The customer was about to go when Paul Nicholson stopped him and said, "We haven't any melons on ice, but we have some under the ice. It keeps them cooler that way. Heat rises, and cold descends, you know. Will one be enough?" "I reckon it will," rejoined the man with the basket, "but I'm going somewhere else to get it. I don't believe I can afford to trade at a grocery shop where they keep scientists for clerks. Afternoon, Sir," and Paul Nicholson was told to go to the desk and get what little was coming to him.

Prosperity is Here
Anyone who doubts it can be convinced by visiting any of the towns in western Iowa or Minnesota on the new lines of the Chicago & North-Western Railway.

People in the immediate vicinity of these towns are quick to see the advantage and are already in advance of the railroad, building stores, residences, elevators, lumber offices, etc., etc., but there is room for more. The country is splendid, and will in all cases amply support all lines of business and trade, and in the most of the towns the best locations are still open.

Lots in any of these towns cannot help but be safe and paying investments, as they are still on the market at the original low prices.

1813—General William H. Harrison defeated the British and Indians at the Thames, Ontario; the noted chief, Tecumseh, was killed.
1853—Burning of the Crystal Palace in New York.
1892—Alfred Tenison, baron d'Erneourt, laureate of England, died, born 1800.
1894—Professor Vincenza Rotte, a well known linguist, died in New York city; born 1822.
Fatal fire in Detroit; 6 deaths.

The term "monopoly" is repugnant to the American people. "Competition is the life of trade," and anything that smacks of competition killing is at once frowned upon. Hence, the American people will not take kindly to the fact that the "Postal" telegraph cables are not allowed to rest on Cuban soil. The old-line companies claim an exclusive franchise for Cuban business, and for this reason the newer company has been unable to get a foothold. The United States authorities should look into the matter carefully before finally passing upon the contentions of the two companies, for healthy competition always insures the best service and the lowest rates.

In his Texas speech William J. Bryan intended to attack the policy of expansion but his declarations, boomerang like, returned to smite him. He said: "I have never heard but three defenses of imperialism. The first is the financial argument that there is money in it. The second is the religious argument that God is in it. The third is the political argument that we are in it and can't get out of it."

In these four sentences Mr. Bryan gave his auditors something to think about, and from this thought will grow the heaviest anti-democratic vote ever cast in the Lone Star state.

If the people of Racine want to learn how to ride on a street car that carries no conductor, they should come to Janesville. Bower City people have no trouble with the company on this score. They get their ride for five cents, and that is all they ask.

The Mexican band has attracted much attention in Chicago, but when President Diaz's representative arrives Chicago, people will drop the band like a hot potato. The musicians can only blow in their horns, while President Diaz's man will blow in $100,000.

Dewey now has the $10,000 sword voted him by congress but it is safe to say that he will never draw it against mankind—if he has any cutting to do, he will do it with a sword made for cutting.

Mexicans are called "greasers," but it remains to be seen whether or not President Diaz's representative will devote that whole $100,000 to lubricating Chicago throats.

Four men are seeking the nomination for governor in Florida, and all are "gold men." The silverites are in pitiful minority down that way.

English Deceptions.

Everybody knows that suicide is unknown in England. It exists without existing, as it were. When on the other side of the channel a person is found asphyxiated by charcoal fumes or lying in a pool of blood with his arteries opened or strung up to the branch of a tree, an inquiry is held, and it is solemnly laid down that the deceased succumbed to a fit of temporary insanity, for it would be immoral for an Englishman to commit suicide, and shocking to relate the fact—Bordeaux La France.

A COLLEGE HONORS DR. W. P. ROBERTS

ELECTED TO THE NEW CHAIR OF "CLIMATOLOGY."

Dunham School of Chicago, Recognizes His Years of Work in This Direction and Will Inaugurate the Study of Cure by a Change of Geographical Conditions.

Dr. William P. Roberts of this city, formerly of Evansville, has recently been elected to a professorship in Dunham Medical college of Chicago, as the following communication indicates:

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 2, 1899.—William P. Roberts, M. D., Janesville, Wis.: My Dear Doctor—I take pleasure in notifying you that the trustees of the Dunham Medical college have elected you professor of climatology (climatic therapeutics), in recognition of your very valuable service in demonstrating so clearly the advantages of certain climates over others in a great many diseases, more especially for the cure of consumption.

Trusting I may have the pleasure of your acceptance, and of meeting you soon, so that we can make arrangements satisfactorily to accommodate your time for a course of lectures to a large class of students and physicians who will be in attendance at our college this winter term.

I am, very truly yours,
E. D. SEATON, Manager.

This token of honor and respect coming so unexpected is a great and most pleasant surprise to Dr. Roberts.

Since the doctor was obliged to abandon his lucrative practice in Evansville in 1891 on account of an almost fatal accident, he has devoted his time and money to researches in the "Empire of Climate," to find out as much as possible about climate therapeutics and how to prescribe the same intelligently to cure diseases. Up to the time in 1891, when there was such great excitement over the much vaunted "Koch Treatment" for tuberculosis, there had never been any organized efforts to promote climatology as a curative agent. Only a few specialists in lung diseases were at all posted regarding the best fitting places to which to send patients, and very few of such experts had become adepts in the method of prescribing climate-cure to suit individual cases, they were—as too many physicians at present are—quite prone to recommend every such invalid to go to the same place, and then wonder why it is that some regain health so rapidly while others, seemingly having a more hopeful prospect from such a change, got no benefit therefrom. Up to 1891 there was no medical society, no county or state health board that had given to climatology much attention; but there was beginning to be some stir regarding the contagiousness of tuberculosis.

In the midst of the "Koch treatment excitement" Dr. Roberts—an invalid at that time—ventured to write a short article upon the subject of "Giving Honor to Whom Honor is Due," which was published in the Chicago Inter-Ocean in February, 1891. This third of a column article set some molecules of thought in motion which were quite unexpected by Dr. Roberts, but it led him to improve an opportunity by getting well known Chicago doctors to join him, and create an organization which was called the "American Health Resort Association" which was chartered under the Illinois statutes, and Dr. Roberts was appointed one of the two special commissioners to travel, study and report upon climatic therapeutics, a work which he commenced in July 1891. In less than a year the work was so well under way that more than one hundred newspaper notices were given it and the doctor had become a familiar personage in many parts of our country. In New Mexico he was dubbed: "The Lungers' Friend," in New England he got the name of being a "Friend to Consumptive Invalids."

It was Dr. Roberts from Evansville, Wis., who originated the law to flag public school houses, and it was he who originated and helped a few well known philanthropists in Massachusetts, to organize the "American Invalid Aid Society" of Boston, and he was the first secretary of this widely known charitable organization, and it was by his influence that no monies coming into the possession of the society could be used to pay salaries. It was through the efforts of this society that it was made possible to establish the fact that more than ninety per cent. of the victims of tuberculosis can easily be cured by a wise selection of climatic environments suited to the individual case. These truths relating to the science of climatic therapeutics are the results of an idea originating in the mind of Dr. Roberts, and the persistent pushing that he and others have given it.

An eminent Frenchman, Montesquieu by name, and a literary and scientific writer during the fifteenth century declared that:

"Climate is the most powerful of all empires."
No doubt that the Frenchman told the truth, and it is quite fitting that after all these years a leading medical college should, in its great work of teaching, take up such a potent factor in the healing art, and establish such a scientific chair in its curriculum, and that they should elect to such a professorship one who is so unassuming, and yet so enthusiastic in the promotion of Homeopathy and Climatology as is Dr. Roberts. Many years ago Dr. Roberts was cured of the dread consumption by a wise change of climate after he had been given up by an eminent physician as a hopeless case of the terrible malady that kills more than 160,000 victims annually in the United States.

THE sociables by the ladies of All Souls (Unitarian) church are becoming very popular, as is evinced by the increasing patronage. One of the delicious suppers were served in the church parlors last evening. There was a good attendance and the able corps of waiters served the menu in a faultless manner.

SURELY local theatre goers have a rare treat in store for them Saturday afternoon and evening, when Hoyt's great success, "A Stranger in New York" will be seen at the Myers Grand in two performances. A feature will be the appearance here for the first time of Paul Nicholson, Jr., who was formerly the leading comedian of the Alice Nielsen Opera company.

THE matinee performance of Hoyt's "A Stranger in New York" will prove to be quite an event for society, as several theatre parties are contemplating attending the play. It gives promise of being the best patronized matinee performance ever given in the city, and Manager Myers showed considerable enterprise in booking the attraction for both afternoon and evening.

IT now develops that the Rev. W. W. Woodside, pastor of the First M. E. church, was nearly the unanimous choice of the recent conference, for the presiding eldership of this district. The popular local preacher would have received the appointment, but for the fact that the bishop refused to lift him from the Janesville charge, which is considered very important. The action of the bishop speaks well for the value of Rev. Woodside to the church.

DECIDE LOCATION OF NEW SPUR TRACK

DIRECTORS OF ROCK RIVER WOOLEN MILLS MEET.

To Ask the Officials of the Chicago & Northwestern Road to Change the Direction of the Extension Put in Hastily But a Few Weeks Ago.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Rock River Woollen and Cotton Mills, was held at the office of Sutherland & Nolan, last evening, for the purpose of deciding as to the location of the spur track to be extended to the mills by the C. & N. W. Railway company. The meeting was attended by seven directors, and after discussing the matter at some length, it was decided to ask the railway company to change the direction of the track put in hastily a few weeks ago, and enter the property of the mills some two hundred feet farther north.

This means that the track will run past the north end of the warehouse, continue to a point opposite the cotton mill, and cross the head race diagonally to the south bank, from whence it will extend as at present to the woolen mill. It is understood that the railway company stand ready and willing to make the proposed change and will do so at once. It seems that the directors of the mills have been for some time divided against themselves in regard to the matter, but have at last reached an agreement.

On Sunday morning, August 27, shortly after midnight, the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company sent a force of about three hundred laborers to the mills at Monterey and proceeded to lay a spur track from the Afton branch of the road, which will reach both the cotton and woolen mills. The work proceeded until about 4 o'clock a. m., when officials of the mills appeared and ordered the operations stopped until a meeting of the directors could be held. Their objection was that as the track was laid, it would be so near to the cotton mill as to cause an increase of the insurance. They also objected on the ground that, if the track crossed the flume it would injure the masonry of it. Operations were then suspended pending the negotiations which have just been completed.

The spur will be of great benefit to the Woollen Mills company, as it will furnish railroad facilities for both the woolen and cotton mills and will save the expense of teaming, which has heretofore amounted to considerable. The directors of the mills wanted the track put in had enough, but did not want it laid in a way that would endanger or injure their property.

MAYOR OF БЕЛОIT MAY BE ARRESTED

"SIDEWALK CASE" MAY RESULT IN A SUIT.

Mrs. Nellie King Resents the Action of the Authorities in Tearing Up a Walk That She Had Built In Front of Her Property—Promises to be Interesting Case.

Beloit, according to press dispatches, has a "sidewalk case" on hand.

A Line City dispatch published by Milwaukee papers, tells the story as follows:

Beloit, Wis., Oct. 4.—Chief of Police Appleby and Officer Schuble had a rough experience today when they endeavored to remove an alleged illegal sidewalk erected by Mrs. Nellie King-Smith, in front of a new business building she is erecting on Public avenue.

The city council passed a resolution last night, ordering it removed, and when the men began work on it this morning, they met with some sharp rebuffs from Mrs. Smith. She asked to see the order, and when Mayor Simon Smith, who was standing near, gave it to her, she refused to return it. The mayor seized her, and got possession of the order, but the scuffle created much excitement, as Mrs. Smith is one of the wealthiest ladies of the city. She vows to have the mayor and officer arrested.

.. LATE NEWS BY TELEGRAPH ..

DETACHED FROM THE OLYMPIA

Admiral Dewey Is Formally Released from His Command.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Admiral Dewey saw Secretary Long Wednesday and talked over his plans for the immediate future, and as to these, Secretary Long promptly gave notice that the department was willing to give him perfect liberty to do as he pleased. The admiral was, therefore, at his instance, detached formally from the Olympia. He telegraphed the executive officer of the ship at Tompkinsville to haul down his flag, and thus terminates his connection with the cruiser which for more than two years has been his home.

In accordance with projects already planned, the admiral will go to Vermont Monday as the guest of W. Seward Webb of Shelburne Farms, near Burlington. After a reception at the state capital the 13th inst., he will go to Boston to attend the reception there in his honor the 14th inst.

After the Boston ceremonies Admiral Dewey is expected to return to Washington to meet his colleagues of the Philippine commission. Secretary Long said the admiral's time probably would be fully occupied in the deliberations of the commission for some months to come, and, meanwhile, in order to leave him free for his work, he will not be assigned to any naval duties. Further than this point, the department has not yet undertaken to define its plans for Admiral Dewey's future.

When all of these details had been arranged the admiral walked over to the white house to keep an appointment made with the president to discuss the Philippine situation.

Illinois Federation of Labor.

Danville, Ill., Oct. 5.—The Federation of Labor did little work Wednesday. The morning session was adjourned in short order because there was no business to be transacted and the resolutions committee had no report to make. In the afternoon the convention refused to endorse the label of the Consumers' league because there was no provision for hours of labor or rates of wages. A resolution was adopted recommending that members of all federations working over forty-eight hours a week be requested to pay 5 per cent per capita per month into their local organizations.

Officers will be elected today, and the place for holding the next convention will be selected.

Defames American Soldiers.

New York, Oct. 5.—Army Secretary Peyton of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, who has just returned from a stay of six months in the Philippines, declares that the United States has 45,000 "drunkards, rakes and gamblers" in and around Manila, and that religious progress is quite out of the question while American soldiers are there. He says the Roman Catholic priests have made up with the Tagalos, and are "losing" no time and sparing no money to tell the Filipinos that the Americans now in Manila are fair specimens of Protestant civilization.

Double Murder and Suicide.

Montgomery, Mo., Oct. 6.—Charles Rankin, a farmer 27 years of age, murdered Frank Walker and his wife, whom he had married but a few hours before, seriously wounding a child, and then committed suicide, at the home of James Cook, nine miles east of here, on Tuesday. Rankin was a jealous lover of the bride, formerly Miss Goshorn.

"There's Luck in Odd Numbers."

The Siamese have so strong a superstition against even numbers that they will have none of them. The number of rooms in a house, of windows or doors in a room, even of rungs on a ladder, must always be odd.

PIERCE'S STATEMENT UNTRUE.

Neither Great Britain Nor Transvaal Asked McKinley to Intervene.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Government officials resent the statement of Mr. Pierce, consul-general of the Orange Free State in New York, that the cause of President McKinley declining the request of President Steyn of the Free State to use his good offices with neutral nations to prevent war between Great Britain and the Transvaal was due to American sympathy for Great Britain.

They say that the statement is absolutely untrue, and that the government would take official notice of Mr. Pierce if he were of sufficient consequence to justify such action. As a matter of fact, the reason for President McKinley's declination to act was that the government was not asked to use its good offices by either of the nations concerned.

Rock River Methodist Conference.

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 5.—Bishop Hurst opened the business session of the Rock River Methodist conference promptly on time Wednesday morning. In his annual report of the Chicago district Presiding Elder Jackson said that the net gain of membership in his district for the year was 1,000, that the Sunday schools were prosperous and that the average church attendance exceeded that of last year. The Epworth league numbers 3,042, a net increase of eighty members. In the afternoon Presiding Elder F. A. Hardin preached his semi-centennial sermon to a crowded church and Dr. C. M. Cobern of Trinity church, Denver, delivered a lecture on the subject, "What the Bible Is and What It Is Not." The evening was taken up by the anniversary meeting of the Church Extension society, addressed by Dr. J. M. King of New York and Dr. W. A. Spencer.

Fear Ravages by a Gulf Gale.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 5.—A storm of great severity is now raging on the gulf coast and anxiety is felt in this city concerning the coast regions in St. Bernard, Plaquemine and Jefferson parishes, where the storm of 1893 caused a loss of 2,000 lives. The only point accessible by wire is the lower Mississippi, where serious damage is already reported, and where the inhabitants are preparing for the worst.

STRONG TESTIMONY

This is Janesville Testimony and Will Stand Investigation.

If you doubt the following and wish to investigate, you haven't to go to some other State in the Union to prove it. It's not a long story published in Janesville newspapers about a resident in Kalamazoo, Mich., or Tampa, Fla. It's about a resident of Janesville and given in his own words. No stronger proof can be had.

Mr. E. T. Fish, of 355 Racine St., proprietor of the Fish Dry Line, says: "When I was twenty years of age I fell injured my back and ever since that I was troubled more or less with a dull, aching pain across the loins. It never laid me up but it was often painful and annoying. Of late years I have gone to a physician every six months and had myself thoroughly examined, under the impression that there might be something wrong with my kidneys. The diagnosis always resulting in the physician claiming these organs were sound, but as the pains existed when I happened to notice in our Janesville papers that Doan's Kidney Pills were guaranteed to cure just such trouble, I procured a box at the Janesville Drug Co.'s store, and took them. Doan's Kidney Pills are a good preparation. My back has not ached since I used them. I have heard others speak very complimentary of them and if I did not know their merit and required such a medicine I would consider it a favor if some one suggested their use to me. For this reason I endorse them."

Becoming a Mother

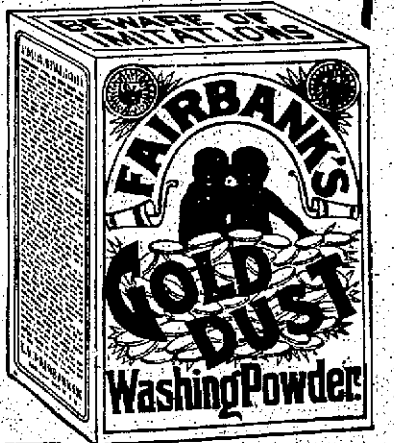

is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing can compare with the horrors of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipation of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom that cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of MOTHER'S FRIEND during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to mother and child. This scientific liniment is a godsend to all women at the time of their most critical ordeal. Not only does MOTHER'S FRIEND carry a woman safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness" and other discomforts of this period. AN ENGLISH BEAUTY.

Talented and Eccentric Miss Wilson.
Who is Visiting America.

Miss Muriel Wilson, who is now sightseeing in this country, is said to be the prettiest young woman in England. Besides this, she is the leader of London's swagger set, of which the Prince of Wales is a conspicuous member. She is as eccentric in the matter of dress as she is beautiful.

She is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson, the owners of Tranby Croft, a handsome country house in Yorkshire, made famous by the so-called baccarat scandal, in which the Prince of Wales and Sir William Gordon-Cumming were involved. She is tall, a brunette, an accomplished dancer and one of the noted amateur actresses in fashionable life in London, having appeared at the Duke and MISS MURIEL WILSON.

Duchess of Devonshire's entertainments at Chatsworth, as well as at other large houses.

Miss Wilson's engagement to the Duke of Marlborough was reported two years before his marriage to Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt. Her engagement to Lord Willoughby de Broghie, son and heir to the Earl of Ancaster, was broken by the young woman, who thought that she did not love the man sincerely enough to become his wife. Miss Wilson has two sisters, Mrs. Lyett Green and Mrs. John Meuzies, and a younger brother, John Wilson, who has spent a season in New York. He was at one time reported to be engaged to Miss Dyer, now Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay. Miss Wilson and her relatives have come over to witness the yacht races, attend the Dewey celebration and later to visit Niagara falls and the west. She intends to return to England in about six weeks.

is, Colonel Francisco Alcantara. He is at the head of the government's artillery regiment. His father was at one time president of Venezuela. Colonel Francisco was given a special course at the United States Military academy at the request of the Venezuelan government. He was graduated two years ago, and his American military training is thus being put to use very early in his career.

The cause of the revolution against President Andrade is a flagrant violation of the constitution. He presented a measure about six months ago which provided for the division of several states. Under the constitution such divisions can be made only after the president in office at the time of the introduction of the bill has finished his term. President Andrade, however, despite this clause, insisted on the immediate passing of the measure.

ure by congress, and all those who have dared to oppose it are now confined in prison.

General Jose Maria Hernandez, who has been in prison at Maracaibo for complicity in the revolution against President Andrade, has escaped and has taken the field against the government forces.

General Castro, another revolutionary leader who was recently wounded in battle, was an unsuccessful candidate for governor of a province at the election, which raised Andrade to the presidency.

"No, indeed," replied the druggist. "We break a glass every once in awhile."—Ohio State Journal.

THE IMPORTATION OF MONKEYS

Organ-Grinders Do Not Carry Them Here Nowadays.

A man who had missed the monkeys formerly carried about by organ-grinders in the city streets, and who had attributed their disappearance to the changed conditions of the organ-grinding business, to the substitution of the big piano-organ on wheels, managed by two persons, for the old-fashioned smaller hand-organ, that was carried about by the player, found upon inquiry that, whatever influence the changed conditions might have had, the carrying of monkeys by organ-grinders is now prohibited here by a city ordinance. There are, however, places in which the monkey still forms a valuable part of the organ-grinder's outfit, and where the nimble little animal, clad in an embroidered jacket and wearing a fancy hat, which it doffs for the pennies, still climbs fences and rainwater conductors, and hops up on porches quite in the old familiar way, in search of contributions. While monkeys are not permitted here, there are men who buy monkeys and train them to sell to organ-grinders who can use them elsewhere; and a well-trained monkey sometimes brings as much as $50. It had seemed, with fewer monkeys in sight, as though there must be fewer monkeys now imported, but the fact appears to be that, if anything, the importation is just now rather greater than usual, due to the increased demand from the show people, who are, after all, the greatest purchasers of monkeys in this country. The organ-grinders use a considerable number; a few, comparatively, are sold for zoological collections, and in recent years a few have been sold for pets; but the largest buyers of monkeys are the traveling shows, of which there are, besides the great, modern, consolidated shows, many smaller ones, showing in smaller towns throughout the country. Take them all together, and these shows use up a good many monkeys. The life of a monkey on the road is usually but a single season. The show renews its stock of monkeys every year.

A Wonderful Old Building.

The most wonderful religious antiquity in Europe, for certain reasons, is the Church of Borgund, Norway. This extraordinary building is supposed to be about a thousand years old. It is what is called a "Stave Church," or Stave Church, i. e., it is entirely built of oaken staves or slabs, which are practically imperishable. It stands in utter solitude in one of the wildest parts of Norway, and many a visitor to the western fjords takes a special journey through the lovely scenery to visit this sanctuary. Worship is still regularly observed in it, the farmers coming for miles from the country round.

The Rat and the Seagull.

A rat was caught alive on board a British naval vessel, in a trap, says the London Field, and the animal was thrown from the trap into the water without being killed. A large gull that was following in the wake of the ship to pick up scraps of food thrown overboard by the steward swooped several times, endeavoring to pick the rat up. Once the bird got too close to the rat's paws, and the beast grabbed it by the neck. After a short fight the rat succeeded in killing the bird. Whether the rat reached shore or not is a question, since the ship soon got out of sight of the skipper and its craft.

A Ring with a History.

A ring with a history has just been given to the Numismatic Museum of Paris by a Polish gentleman, who purchased it for a small sum recently in Warsaw. Shortly after he formed the acquaintance of the lady, who was afterward Marquise de Pompadour, Louis XV. presented her with an intaglio ring representing his own apotheosis. It was pronounced at that time to be a marvelous work of art, equaling anything of the sort produced in ancient Greece or Rome. Round the edge was an elaborate inscription. One day Mme. de Pompadour, to her distress, lost this precious ring, which has now reappeared after nearly 150 years' peregrination. If rings could speak, this one doubtless could tell a curious tale.—San Francisco Bulletin

Black Clothes.

The popularity of black clothes is due largely to the fact that a large percentage of men have to study economy to a greater or less degree, and a great many who do not have to do so like black clothes above fancies.

Black Clothes are Economical in that they are inconspicuous and always in good taste. . . .

so that one does not notice that the same suit is worn very often indeed. Also the fact that the material is black saves the expense in manufacture of making a fancy weave of different colors, which is a large item, so that for the same money one gets a much finer material in black than in fancy goods.

Our black suits are the acme of quiet good taste and elegance. Style, tailoring, and trimmings are the best and instil a great satisfaction into the bosom of the wearer.

NO DELAY ON FINANCIAL BILL.

Senate Measure to Be Introduced on the First Day of the Session.

Washington, Oct. 5.—On the first day of the approaching session of congress the senate financial bill will be introduced in the senate. It will not be on the same lines as the house bill, but it will declare without equivocation for the gold standard.

Senator Aldrich, who, as chairman of the finance committee of the senate, has taken a prominent part in the framing of the bill, said that the measure had been prepared, but that it would not be made public until it had been shown to a number of republican senators. It is the present intention of the finance committee to ask a speedy consideration of the bill in the senate in order that it may be disposed of as early in the session as possible.

Gov. Tanner Attends the Reunion. Olney, Ill., Oct. 5.—The first day of the soldiers' and sailors' reunion proved a most enjoyable one. Fully 5,000 persons attended. Gov. Tanner arrived at noon. He addressed the people for a short time and was followed by Gen. Albert D. Shaw, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. of the United States. Senator Cullom is here today.

Harlan's Condition Critical. Mount Pleasant, Iowa, Oct. 5.—Senator Harlan took a turn for the worse

Wednesday. He caught cold, which caused an aggravated congestion of the lungs. Without speedy relief, his life is despaired of. Mrs. Robert T. Lincoln, his daughter, has arrived from New Jersey. She is the only child.

Of this 11,110,000 bags, or 1,466,520,000 pounds were produced in Brazil. Other leading coffee producing countries are British India, with Ceylon, Central America and Mexico.

It is cooled and bottled in the most approved manner, bottles are scalded and thoroughly rinsed and each bottle fitted with clean, new, wood pulp corks. It will keep well and is perfectly pure.
